

TASK: Write your own script for a film about the new National Health Service in which you explain what services are offered and how it will improve peoples lives.